VISIONS OF HOME

Working from a converted garden shed in Yorkshire, Japanese artist Yukihiro Akama creates miniature houses from native British wood. His evocative drawings of these structures have now been turned into 40x50cm prints, which cost £125 each (unframed) and are sold through The Shop Floor Project, 01229 584537, theshopfloorproject.com.

EASTERN PROMISE

Super soft underfoot, the Barefoot Taj collection of hand-woven carpet by Alternative Flooring, 01264 335111, alternativeflooring.com, draws its motif from the Taj Mahal's Mughal architecture, while its colourways are named after areas of the temple, such as Bageecha, Khana and Darwaza. The carpet costs from £110.25sq m and is robust enough for most of the home, including the stairs.

SETTING THE BENCHMARK

Whether at the foot of a bed or in a hallway, the elegant, low-backed Aubin bench adds a luxurious touch wherever it is positioned. Available in five sizes, the bench can be customised with a range of wood finishes on the legs and studs to add interest. From £695 plus 1m of plain fabric from The Sofa & Chair Company, 020 8752 8935, thesofaandchair.co.uk.
