SUMMER FLING

With names like Sun, Surf and Frolic, textile designer Margo Selby's latest collection for Alternative Flooring is definitely one to get on board with. Proving to be the "it" designer for fashionable flooring, Selby has included block, pencil and ticking stripes across a range of carpets, rugs and runners in hues that have a sunny, almost Seventies feel. Margo Selby Stripe, £73 per sq m (alternativeflooring.com)

STUD APPEAL

You perhaps never knew you needed one, but we think this nifty emerald-coloured velvet footstool from The French Bedroom Company is just the thing for perching on while you take off your party shoes after a night on the tiles. And it's studded too, so it's absolutely on-trend. £170 (frenchbedroomcompany.co.uk)

TRENDING

[Day of the dead]

Halloween can be a bit, er, orange and plastic, but take your inspiration from Mexico's Day of the Dead and suddenly the Fright Night fiesta takes on a way more stylish dimension.

Clockwise, from top left: Baroque Skeleton masks, £6.49 per pack; and Skeleton garland, £6.99 (talkingtables.co.uk); Day of the Dead cushion, £35.99 (ansnow.com); Novogratz District DOS1 rug, from £139 (modern-rugs.co.uk); Mexico Skull Planter, £165, Qeeboo (amara.com); Fiesta Skull Clutch, £72, Jan Constantine (amara.com); and Skull chocolate bar, £7.50 (chococo.co.uk)

ON YOUR BIKE

Forego man-made fibres and send the kids to school with a cute and colourful satchel from Honey and Toast. Made in Somerset from 100 per cent leather, the bags come in matching adult sizes - great for when you want to look good at the school gates too. (honeyandtoast.co.uk)
